DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I: Claim(s) 1 – 8, drawn to an imaging film having multiple diffraction zones so as to direct light of different wavelengths to a desired general position. The claims further limit the invention to its inherent chemical makeup and treatment. This invention is drawn to class 359, subclass 575.

Group II: claim(s) 9 – 15, drawn to an image sensor where pixels receive incident light according to the focal position of specially adjusted light-collecting devices. This invention is drawn to class 348, subclasses 272, 273, 276, and 277.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

While Group I and II are related in that they can easily be used in conjunction with one another (subcombinations usable together,) the special technical features of the two groups are different – both lacking overlap in scope and lacking as obvious variants.

Group I relates to an imaging film with diffraction zones that direct certain wavelengths of light to a desired position, while Group II relates to an image sensor that receives incident light.

While certainly usable together, the two groups both have separate utility from one another. For example, the invention of Group I is useful for any lens body, such as vision correction lenses to adjust for individual astigmatism. Similarly, the invention of Group II is useful for any camera system requiring an image sensor whose pixels are adjusted to receive specific refractive indices, such as those provided by optical blur filters.

As such, both the imaging film and the image sensor have separate utility from one another, and lack any corresponding special technical feature in order to define invention unity.

A telephone call was made to Atty. Steven Wegman on 23 February 2009 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
